

“Is There a Challenging Kid in Your Life?”

A Collaborative Problem Solving workshop with Alicia Stevenson, presented by the Sussex County Mental Health Board and partners:

Wed., May 7, 2014

7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

SCCC Student Theater, Bldg. D

1 College Hill Rd., Newton

FREE Registration: 973-940-3194

Have you ever heard?...

"You just need to be TOUGHER or MORE CONSISTENT!"

Did you find that approach didn't work, but couldn't come up with a better plan?

FINALLY, THERE'S A BETTER PLAN!

Featured speaker Alicia Stevenson is a Certified CPS Mentor, via ThinkKids/Massachusetts General Hospital* and the Parent of a child with learning disabilities and mental health challenges.

* Alicia is not affiliated with Mass. General Hospital.

This presentation will show why traditional methods of behavioral intervention don't work for so many challenging children and teens, and what does work, from the perspective of a parent who's been there.

The Collaborative Problem Solving (CPS) model was designed by highly-regarded authority Ross Greene, PhD, Associate Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School, author of "The Explosive Child" and "Lost at School" and co-author with J. Stuart Ablon, PhD, of "Treating Explosive Kids." This revolutionary and innovative model is compassionate, effective, respectful, and is gaining widespread, international attention.

